Lest...they be converted, and I should heal them – because it's too late! Israel's sins have gone too far. The wine cup of God's fury is full to overflowing (Jer. 25:15). It's too late for the nation to avoid God's righteous judgment. For many years her people had ignored the Lord's numerous calls to repentance by His prophets. God manifestly states His case against Israel in 2 Kings 17:6-41.

Finally, in the ninth year of King Hoshea (721 BC), the Lord allowed the Assyrian monarch Sargon II to carry away captive the northern kingdom out of the Promise Land. Nevertheless, through His love and mercy, those individuals who repented were accepted "in the beloved" (Eph. 1:6, note Isa. 6:7). Judah, the southern kingdom, is also warned concerning the Babylonians.
